

Samuel Everhart Osborn, III

May 21, 1945 - December 6, 2021

Samuel Everhart Osborn III of Zanesville, OH passed away on December 6th.

Sam was born in Missouri to Samuel and Jeanne Moss Osborn, Jr. For 55 years, he lived with his wife, Pamela, in Atlanta, GA where he was an architect. They moved to Zanesville, OH in 2016 to be close to family. He was an active member in numerous churches over the years, serving on elder and advisory boards. Most recently, he was a member of Immanuel Church.

He is survived by his wife Pamela Godfrey Osborn; sons Samuel (Joey) of Zanesville, OH and Joseph (Elizabeth) of Greenville, SC; daughter Hannah (Nate) Haygood of Bozeman, MT; and sister Susan King of Louisville, KY. In addition, he has eleven grandchildren of whom he is incredibly proud.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in his memory to Immanuel Church in Zanesville, OH.

A memorial service will be held at Immanuel Church at 11:00am on Saturday, January 15, 2022.

“ Dearest Pam & Family, I grew up with Sam in Bedford, IN. My husband, Terry and our group of friends all spent time at my family home in Edgewood. Bill Scheid and many more have great memories of our high school days together. Sam was a loyal friend not only to me and Terry during his long illness, but he took time to visit my Father every time that he was in Bedford. My current husband, Bob, had the opportunity to get to know Sam and Pam and over the years and we spent many enjoyable times together. I will miss his caring and loving friendship. Brenda Blackwood
